When students finish the game, they are revealed the key word 'TABLE'. At this point they have to think that they should search the table, where the teacher has hidden a code or clue (under it, in the drawer, etc).

Hints

In case students fail to choose the right answer, the game gives students the opportunity to try again until they choose the right answer, so there is no need for the teacher/GM to help students.

The teacher can change the key word depending on how they would like the escape game to proceed.

More information

Possible restrictions

Students with learning disorders might find it difficult to play the game.
