We Will Rock You

- Description of the enigma

This enigma should be optional. It is only a shortcut. If players fail, you have to allow them to continue the Escape Room through another enigma that will take more time as penalty.

On a desk, a computer is locked with a password. Only 10 attempts are allowed before the computer is fully locked.

In a desk, the players find a folder with a piece of paper on it:

‘Best part at 0:58’

Inside this folder, they must find 20 sheets briefly describing different people:

|---|
| one or several files on an old and rich man/woman |
| only one file on an old and poor man |
| one or several files on an old and poor woman |
| one or several files on a middle age poor man/woman |
| one or several files on a middle age rich man/woman |
| one or several files on a rich teenager |
| one or several files on a poor teenager |

On every file will be written a code.

In one side of the room, the player must find an audio player connected to a small speaker. Only one track is on the CD: ‘We will rock you’ by Queen. At 0:58 (indicated on the piece of paper on the top of the folder), the lyrics is ‘Buddy you’re an old man poor man’. This is the clue that allows the players to understand that the file on the old and poor man has the right code to open the computer session

Hints

The owner of this room listens to this music all the time.

The owner of this room has noted the relevant moment to be sure of the clue.

The description of the man is in the song.

More information

Possible restrictions

Students with hearing impairments could have trouble to understand the lyrics. If the majority of your players have deafness, this enigma could block the experience.
